

ATHLETE DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMS

A project in partnership with the Australian Sports Foundation to allow you to make a tax-deductible donation today!

The Western Sydney Academy of Sport is an independent, not-for-profit, community based organisation charged with identifying, developing and implementing quality opportunities for the development of talented young female and male athletes across a wide range of sports, within the Western Sydney region, assisting in the development of over 2500 athletes to date including alumni such as Jessica Fox and Paige Hadley.

The Academy's high performance training programs have established benchmark standards and value in the officially recognised elite pathways of State Sporting Organisations, and endorsed by the NSW Institute of Sport to ensure that its programs are fully endorsed and provide significant added value to an athlete's personal development through application of high level coaching resources, educational and technical development components and a variety of events and competition opportunities.

The Athlete Development Programs project will raise funds to support Western Sydney athletes with their personal and technical development, assisting in the progression along the elite pathway of their respective sports.

OUR FUTURE

Through the Athlete Development Programs project the Academy aims to provide technical coaching, personal development, and competition opportunities for more talented young Western Sydney athletes.

The Academy's sports programs are recognised as an endorsed step in the elite pathways of the various sports. The opportunities offered by the Academy have provided an important step in the pathway for athletes to move on to State or National representation.

As a not-for-profit organisation the Academy relies on the assistance of corporate and community partners, local government, and donations to continue operations. Without this assistance the Academy would not be able to provide these wonderful opportunities to Western Sydney athletes.

By donating you will be assisting in the cost of venues, clothing, camps, competitions, subsidisation of cost to the athlete and enhancing the quality of the current program curriculum.

HELP US BY MAKING A TAX DEDUCTIBLE DONATION TODAY!

The Western Sydney Academy of Sport would greatly benefit from any donation you or your organisation can make. Through your donation to the Academy, you are helping young sports people develop the necessary skills and become stars of the future.

The Academy thanks you for your support and looks forward to developing the next Jessica Fox, Paige Hadley, or Bryce Cartwright!
